Winter Shoes Very Cheap.

We have just brought down stairs and put on sale all of the heavy winter shoes from our Richards & Co's purchase. Every pair has been marked down. A pair on the cheapest ones to $1.50 on the best. No such bargains in winter shoes can be sold by any other firm. We purchased the Richards & Co's stock at our own price and can sell shoes at exactly what other dealers pay for them and make a splendid profit. On many of these shoes we have cut Richards & Co's prices right in half.

A FEW PRICES

Big lot odds and ends, Childs Heavy School Shoes, broken sizes. Richards & Co's price 1.00 to 1.25	Ladies fine Kid Button Extension Sole Shoes, broken sizes. Richards & Co's price 2.50

HAS A GRIEVANCE

A Colored Employe Don't Like His Treatment at The Asylum.

One more negro side tracked at the asylum, by the Republicans who call themselves a negro's friends. But when you make them show their hand you find them the bitterest pill that any negro ever swallowed. I will say that between myself and a white Republican that was an employe at the asylum, a matter came up that forced me to ask protection for my family from the Superintendent of the institution, which I did at least three times. But instead of the authorities protecting me from the insult that had been perpetrated upon my family, they discharged me and retained the evil-doer.

You tell me about the Republican party? All you colored people have to do is to go to the asylum at meal time and see your Republican friends feed twenty negroes out of seven bowls, but knives and forks for only one half of them. They scatter the bread as if feeding so many hogs.

In the time of Dr. Rodman and his successor Dr. Stone, we had knives and forks and plates enough for all and were treated like human beings, but Oh! what changes time has wrought.

I suppose this is the change that Gov. Bradley promised us, when the "rascals" were turned out and the books were looked into. If this is not what we promised, this is what we got.

You appointed Judge Anderson for Steward, and the negroes dreamed of freedom, but when we were found it a joke. But he and his Republican friends will find that the negro is somewhat of a joker when he comes to say to the colored people of Christian county, that the time has come for you to vote for the man, and let the Republican Ring in Hopkinsville fall down hard.

I want to say to the colored people of Christian county, that the time has come for you to vote for the man, and let the Republican Ring in Hopkinsville fall down hard. I saw that letter to day, wherein Dr. Gardiner promised Charlie Hampton to let the painter at the asylum go, put the white Republican is still there and will be there until Gabriel toots his horn.

Parents cannot raise children properly without the rod, neither will the Ring be good until gloriously defeated.

MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH.

Heard By 5,000 People at the L. & N.

Mr. Bryan passed through the city as he had announced at 5:40 o'clock Tuesday evening and made a talk of ten minutes at the depot. It had been arranged to take him to a platform a few feet from the track, but the train ran a little too far and before it could move back the crowd closed in behind and completely cut off Mr. Bryan from the platform. He accordingly made his speech from the platform of the car, but it was only heard by a small portion of the 5,000 people present and packed in a solid mass about the depot. This change in the plan was a disappointment to a majority of those present, who expected him to take the platform and did not get to hear his brief speech.

While the train was taking on those who went to Madisonville, Hon. J. S. Rhea followed Mr. Bryan in a speech of two or three minutes. Those who heard him at Madisonville were amply repaid for the trip as his speech was a very fine one. A good many others from here went to Princeton Wednesday and heard him at that place.

Mr. Johnson Not Turned Loose.

A stranger giving his name as Jas. B. Johnson, who appeared to be a tramp, was found weak and exhausted in a field near Dick Saddle's yesterday morning. County Judge Breathitt went out to the place to see about the man, who appeared to be sane. He could not give a satisfactory account of himself but said he had lived at Sebree, Ky., and Judge Breathitt offered to get him a ticket to Sebree, but he exhibited a roll of money and said he did not need it. He was sent to the poor house pending further investigation.

On a Notions Charge.

Thursday night officers brought from Kirkmanville, this county, and lodged in jail here one Lester Lear, a young white man about 20 years old charged with the crime of assault upon a 14 year old white girl by the name of Willis. The examining trial of Lear was held before Esq. Murphy at Kirkmanville and the prisoner held under a $500 bond to await the action of the grand jury. The crime is said to have been attempted about three miles from Kirkmanville over in Muhlenburg county and Lear was captured by Muhlenburg officers and turned over to Todd county authorities. None of the further particulars could be obtained. —Elkton Progress.

Dr. Jarrard K. Smith, a Hawaiian government physician, was assassinated by a native whose mother and sister, Dr. Smith had declared leprous.

CREAM OF NEWS.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Bryan at the Depot—Barn Burned—Boiler Explodes—Sudden Death—Meetings—Other Items.

Wanted for Murder.

Leigh Hugh, wanted in Minnesota for murder, has been arrested in Guthrie by town marshal Rickman. There is $200 reward out for the man. He denies that he is guilty of murder, but admits being the man who was been.

The Cask Meeting.

Rev. W. J. Couch closed his protracted meeting at the Casky Baptist church Wednesday night and the converts, eight or ten, were baptized yesterday morning near the church. The meeting was in progress for ten days.

Mr. Whittaker Recovering.

Mr. Dan Whittaker, who was severely hurt by a fall from his buggy on the 4th inst., and who had since been at Dr. Anderson's, was able to be moved to his home Wednesday. He is now slowly recovering from his injuries.

Damage Suit Dismissed.

The damage suit against Esq. W. B. Brewer, of Fairview, for $2,000, brought by Owen A. Clark, some months ago, alleging negligence in filling a prescription, was dismissed on demurrer filed by the defendant's attorneys last Tuesday.

Destroyed 1000 Hails.

Last Saturday fire broke out in the woods near Mr. H. C. Brasher's, in North Christian, and spread so rapidly that the flames caught the fence surrounding his farm, destroying about 1000 rails. It is thought the fire was started from a cigar stump, thrown away by some hunter.

More Rain Predicted.

Hicks predicts in his October forecasts, another rain in the next day or so. A regular storm period extends from the 14th to the 18th. Warmer weather will prevail, with cloudiness and rain, followed by very cold nights and snow to the north. Heavy rain storms towards the last of the month, followed by a very cool wave for the time of the year.

Tobacco Barn Burned.

The large tobacco barn of Mr. C. K. Fleming, of the Howell neighborhood, was destroyed by fire Wednesday. There were about 8,000 pounds of fine tobacco in the barn. It caught while "firing" was in progress. Mr. Fleming's loss is about $1,000. He had no insurance and the loss falls very heavily upon him, as all of his crop was destroyed.

Any One Thing To Defeat Cook.

Murray, Ky., Oct. 12.—George Duignold, radical populist of Murray, this afternoon filed his certificate signed by the requisite number of voters, and is therefore a candidate for commonwealth's attorney against W. R. Howell, democrat, of Hopkinsville, in the Third judicial district.

It is a scheme to help Breathitt, republican of Christian, in his race for circuit judge, by dividing the populist vote, but it will not work.

"Dummy" Damage Suit.

The damage case of Parker McCombs, col., against the L. & N. for $25,000 has been on trial for two days and is still in progress. McCombs, who is a deaf and dumb barber, was walking on the track when he was struck and both legs cut off below the knees. He is now going about on peg legs with the aid of crutches. The case is proving to be a long drawn out one and a verdict will probably not be reached before to-morrow.

Fell Among Pickpockets.

W. A. Morris, tie contractor for the I. C. road, while en route from Dawson to Princeton on a train Wednesday morning had his pocket picked. The thief got about $100 in cash, a check for $35, railroad pass and some other valuable papers. There was a large crowd on board the train going to Princeton to hear the Bryan speaking and Mr. Morris at one time was jostled considerably. As soon as he recovered himself he felt for his valuables and found that he had been robbed.

The Boiler Exploded.

While Mr. W. H. Graham, of this city, was boring a well near Cobb Station Wednesday the boiler exploded, throwing pieces of cast-iron and timbers in every direction. Mr. Graham was knocked down and pretty badly hurt. His head and face were cut in several places and he was otherwise bruised and cut. Several of his hands were also slightly injured. Mr. Graham was able to return to this city Wednesday, where his wounds received medical attention. The cost on boiler and outfit amounts to about $1,000.

The Mayfield Daily Democrat has suspended publication.

Ex Senator Jas. W. Jones, of Florida, died this week.

The Democratic and Republican candidates for county offices have signed an agreement to do no more speaking before the election.

The total registration in Henderson is 1,963, of which 826 are Democrats, 690 Republicans and the rest noncommittal or independent.

Senator W. J. Deboe spoke at the court house Wednesday but his speech failed to make a ripple on the surface of politics.

Judge Breathitt carried Trigg county in 1895 by 25 votes. This time, according to the best posted politicians in that county, he will lose the county by from 250 to 400 majority.

The robbers who looted the Morganfield bank of $3,000 got away with their booty. They have not been captured and are not likely to be.

The statement that Hon. Chas. J. Brouston's appointment for this city next Monday had been changed to Cadiz was premature. The appointment has not been changed.

The "Citizens ticket" of Owensboro will go on the ballot under the device of a horse, suggested probably by the desperate straits in which Richard III once found himself.

Senator elect H. D. Money, of Mississippi, has been appointed to the vacancy in the term of the late Senator George, extending until March 4, 1899. Senator Money now has a term of 7½ years before him.

The total registration in Covington is 10,133 and the Democrats show a gain of 1,684, while the Republicans are 836 behind last year. There are 350 independents, but adding these to the Republican vote and the Democrats still have a majority of 2,862.

Judges Cook and Breathitt are this week filling joint appointments in Lyon county. The Democratic cause in that county is in good shape and Cook will get a nice majority. In the last judicial election Lyon gave 107 majority for Linn. This time it will do a good deal better.

Indianapolis has followed the good example set by Chicago, Cincinnati and other Republican cities and gone Democratic by 4000 majority, although the city last year gave McKinley 6,744 majority. Many Republicans voted for Teggart for mayor.

A man named Geo. C. Duguid, said to be a Populist and a lawyer of Murray, has made application for a place on the ballot for Commonwealth's Attorney, claiming to have been nominated by a convention at Eddyville Oct. 7. A conference of three or four men claiming to be Populists but representing nobody but themselves, was held in Eddyville, but there was no convention held, as no delegates had been selected from any county in the district. Duguid is not the nominee of the Populist party and will cut about as much figure in the race as Southall did for Congress last year, when he got 68 votes out of 30,000. The Callaway Times gives Duguid this significant endorsement:

"Strange things will happen. But a few days ago a certain lawyer of Murray was a strong advocate of Judge Cook, but now it is pretty generally understood that some unforeseen hand has been brought to bear upon this distinguished attorney and he is at present just asking to go for the job again for Commonwealth's Attorney; and this same man was a candidate in our last primary but was most gloriously defeated. The fact is George, you will again have the pleasure (?) of passing through the same ordeal if you allow your name to be in this canvass. We know George of old."

Mr. Bryan refused to speak at Henderson when he found that those present had paid at the gate to get inside the fair grounds. He persisted in his refusal and the managers were beginning to despair when a way out of the difficulty was suggested. The great Nebraskan said that if an authorized person would announce that the people who had paid to hear him could have their money refunded on application at the ticket office, he would consent to address the crowd. This was agreed to and Hon. Jas. F. Clay was selected to make the announcement, after which the orator was introduced and addressed the great crowd. After he finished, all who chose to do so called at the ticket office and the price paid for admission was refunded to them.

Mr. Bryan's tour through Western Kentucky was a series of triumphs. He spoke ten times at length and made short speeches at a few other places. Everywhere he was greeted by great crowds of enthusiastic and devoted followers, who recognize him as the leader of the Democratic party. Wherever he spoke the greatest enthusiasm was aroused. He is even more popular with the people this year than he was in the campaign last year.

Gov. Bradley appointed a committee of expert chair men to go to the Frankfort penitentiary in company with Walter Forrester and investigate the rascality going on under the chair contract, but the warden refused to show his records if Gov. Bradley means business he can convene the Legislature to investigate the corruption unassisted by Forrester.

According to the Murray Times, Jim has been making some more of his famous deals. This explains "Mr. Breathitt must consider his chances rather desperate when he is forced to sell the master commissionership to a middle of the road for his 'duces in this county.'"

Gen. Blanco will be the third General to try to subjugate the Cubans. He will bring with him 20,000 new soldiers. Gen. Blanco states that he will try pacific measures and failing to restore peace in that way "will act with energy."

Chattanooga Redeemed.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 13.—The Democrats gained a big victory here yesterday. They elected their candidate for Mayor and out of eight Aldermen chosen they elected six. The city usually goes Republican by from 400 to 500. National issue were not brought into the campaign.

THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE.

Lung Troubles and Consumption Can be Cured.

An Eminent New York Chemist and Scientist Makes a Free Offer to Our Readers.

The distinguished New York chemist, T. A. Slocum, demonstrating his discovery of a reliable and absolute cure for Consumption (Pulmonary Tuberculosis) and all bronchial, throat, lung chest diseases, stubborn coughs, catarrhal affections, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh, and all conditions of wasting away, will send THREE FREE BOTTLES (all different) of his New Discoveries to any afflicted reader of the Hopkinsville Kentuckian writing for them. His "New Scientific Treatment" has cured thousands permanently by its timely use, and he consents to a simple professional duty to suffering humanity to donate a trial of his infallible cure.

Science daily develops new wonders, and this great chemist, patient experimenting for years, has produced results as beneficial to humanity as can be claimed by any modern genius. His assertion that lung troubles and consumption are curable in any climate is proven by "heartfelt letters of gratitude," filed in his American and European laboratories, in thousands from those cured in all parts of the world.

Medical experts concede that bronchial, chest and lung troubles are the most common and dangerous diseases. Consumption, which, uninterrupted, means speedy and certain death. Simply write to T. A. Slocum, M. C. 88 Pine street, New York, giving post office and express address, and the free medicine will be promptly sent. Sufferers should take instant advantage of his generous proposition.

Please tell the Doctor that you saw his offer in the Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

FEVER GETTING WORSE.

Nearly 2000 Cases To Date and 148 Deaths Reported.

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—This was the record smasher in the number of deaths in a single day from yellow fever since the sickness was first reported in New Orleans. It is difficult to find the cause except in the fact that concealment, neglect and rebellion against the authority of the Board of Health have made it difficult for the physicians to give proper attention to cases. At 7 o'clock this evening there had been nine fatalities reported during the twenty-four hours. Heretofore the highest number of deaths in any one day has been six.

The fever has been discovered at another Texas town—Nacogdoches. The City Council of Galveston declines to accept the diagnosis of Dr. Guiteras and calls for another expert. The fatalities yesterday besides those at New Orleans include one death, each at Edwards, Scranton and McHenry, Miss., Plaquemine parish, La., and Wagar, Ala. Aside from New Orleans forty nine new cases reported yesterday.

Following is the record to date:
New Orleans: New cases, 31; total, 655; deaths to day, 9; total deaths, 77.
Mobile: New cases, 7; total, 136.
Magazine Point, three miles from Mobile: New cases, 6, which were brought to Mobile, making 142 there.
Deaths to day at Magazine Point, 1; total deaths in and near Mobile, 21.
Edwards: New cases, 6; total, 436; deaths to day, 1; total, 25.
Scranton: New cases, 7; total, 162; deaths to day, 1; total, 7.
Wagar, Ala.: New cases, 1; total, 16; deaths to day, 1.
Blount: New cases, 17; total, 343; total deaths, 14.
Nittayuma: Deaths today, 1; total cases, 10; total death, 3.

A Beneficial and Gifted Missouri Woman

It is with especial pleasure that the ladies of the Christian church announce to the public that they have secured the services of Mrs. F. J. Haskell, who will give a dramatic recital at the Christian church Thursday evening, Oct. 22. Mrs. Haskell has been delighting Washington society by her readings. These are under the especial patronage of Mrs. Bland, Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. Gresham, Mrs. Vest and others. It is but to argue yourself unknown not to have attended Mrs. Haskell's entertainment.

Those who believe chronic diarrhoea to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Guars Mills, La., has to say on the subject, viz: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that ef-ected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhoea. It is pleasant to take and never fails to effect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by R. C. Hardwick.

There is a simple rule which writers affecting an Irish brogue would do well to become acquainted with, and thus avoid offending the ears of every Irish reader who knows anything of the matter. Words containing the combination 'ea,' such as tea, meat, etc., are pronounced as if spelled tay, mate, etc. Again, words with 'ei,' such as receipt, are pronounced restate; but no words containing the combination 'ie' are ever given that sound. No Irishman mispronounces belief, priest, chief. This is also true of the words containing the double 'e', such as beef, seen, feel, or queen, with one single exception, the word queer, which, oddly enough, they call quare. And the peculiarity of Irishmen in this matter is readily explained. When English was first taught in that country the first three vowels were given the same sound as they possess in all Latin countries to-day. Bearing this in mind, it is easy to see why 'e' and 'ei' are in Ireland sounded as 'ay,' and also why 'ie' is never sounded in the same way. In this connection, it may, perhaps, be mentioned that Pope and other

An Underground City.

There is a remarkable underground city, which has a population of over 1,000 men, women and children, scores of whom have never seen the light of day. It is known as the City of the Salt Mines, and is situated several hundred feet below the earth's surface. It has its town hall, heater and assembly-room, as well as a beautiful church decorated with statues, all being fashioned from the pure crystallized rock salt. It has well graded streets and spacious squares, lighted with electricity. There are numerous instances in this underground city where not a single individual in three or four successive generations has ever seen the sun or has any idea of how people live in the light of day.—Roxbury Gazette.

A detailed black and white engraving of a dark-colored horse, likely a stallion or a high-quality breeding horse, standing in profile facing left. The horse has a long, arched neck, a flowing mane, and a long, straight tail. Its body is well-proportioned with visible musculature. The horse stands on a patch of ground with some grass. In the background, there is a simple landscape with a horizon line, some distant hills, and a small structure or building on the left. The style is characteristic of 19th-century book illustrations.

CATCHING THE TARPON.

A Battle Royal to Set Afloat Your Sporting Blood.

The tarpon is the "top-feeder" that is, he seeks his food on the surface. Those who know him best fish for him with live mullet, which is not allowed to sink more than two feet below the waves, being sustained by a large float or cork. The larger portion of his mouth is bone and no hook will take secure hold upon it. This being so, it is necessary to allow him practically to swallow the bait, which he will do by the time that he has choked the float with his head above the water for a space of 30 feet. Afterward is the time to swear and pray. The tarpon reel holds 600 feet of line. Not infrequently when he feels the hook the fish will strike the trail for him with a scorchingly irresistible rush, and keep going. What happens when his 150 pounds of express speed are pitted against the strength of a line that is run out needs not to be told. He simply sails on to sea, whipping behind him 200 yards of silk, and whether he lives or whether he dies, his former owner knows not. He can only go back to port and surround many jilups and tell plain tales of the size of the wonder that got away.

But if that splendid rush is deflected, if the fish dives, if the thumb of an old hand be upon the reel, if the man to whom the hand is attached is cool of head and knows enough to give his adversary the bait, a battle royal is on. For verily the combat between a 150-pound man, sound of mind and science, and a 150-pound tarpon, possessed of the temper of the devil, is a grapple of the gods. It shakes his head like a dog in his effort to dislodge the hook. A momentary slack of the line is fatal, as the sharp teeth close upon the strands of the line, and when he is severed as if with a knife.

But when the terrific struggles have grown fainter, when the steady, deadly strain of the springing rod has snapped the strength of the gallant foe, when his little, powerless body is brought near to the boat's edge, when the cruel gaff has smitten the life from it and its beautiful length lies along the deck, the conqueror feels half jubilant, half remorseful, wholly respectful of the giant whose prowess has laid low, and confoundingly weary and dry. He looks at the sun, which seems surprisingly low in the heavens; he looks at his watch and refuses to believe that two hours have passed in that desperate wrestle. But, unless he be in thorough training and past master of his art, a swollen, aching wrist will tell him for days afterward that in the silver king of the southern sea he was near to meeting his match.—Chicago Times-Herald.

"THROWN UPON THE WORLD."

Folly of Lying Beyond One's Means Plainly Shown.

A visitor to one of our government offices where women are employed in one of our cities desires to give an exact account of what he saw and heard there. He was conducted by the superintendent, an old man of large experience. The last room he inspected was filled with women at work.

The visitor remarked: "This is a higher class of women than that employed at the same work in some other kinds of business." These women have been educated, and have refined faces and voices. I should judge they are not used to manual labor of any kind.

"They are not," was the reply. "In almost every case they are the widows of our soldiers, and they are employed with them, but who, while living, gave to their families luxuries beyond their means.

"That young girl by the window was in fashionable society in New York two years ago. Her father, with a salary of $5,000, lived far beyond his means. The woman in mourning is the widow of a physician whose income averaged $6,000. He probably spent eight.

"That pale girl is the daughter of a master builder, who lived comfortably among his old friends until he was seized with political ambition. He moved into a fine house, had his carriage, servants and gave balls. He died, and his daughter earns $12 a week, on which she supports her mother. There is hardly a woman here who is not the victim of the vulgar ambition which makes a family a family and their neighbors in it.

"That is an ambition not peculiar to us Americans," said the visitor. "It is more common among us, because in other countries social position depends upon birth, while here it is usually fixed by money. How many families in this country do you know who are pretending to a large pecuniary wealth than they have?"

The visitor passes on the question to the reader.—Youth's Companion.

COTTON NET DRESSES.

They Come Very Thick, to the Worn Swift Snow Flies.

Net is so soft and graceful that it is hard to give it up for heavy winter material, and it is the reason why there is such a demand for the heavy cotton nets that are made up over coarse silk-faced goods, or over cotton with silk finish.

DRESS OF COTTON NET.

A very charming dress of this variety was of a brown net made over a thin cloth of the same shade. Two panels of lighter brown trimmed the skirt and also made trimmings for the waist. The waist had a vest of the light material, with a deep ridge of black satin folded around the waist. The collar was of satin, with a flaring mesh of silk above it.

FOR PLAY-GOWNS.

Good Wash-Brown Gingham and Fine Striped Cambrics. Gingham for fall is heavier than summer gingham. They are so coarse and warm that their texture reminds you of denim, and in this form they are very suitable for children's play-dresses, which indeed was the end for which they were intended.

SERVICEABLE PLAY DRESSES.

The bolero has come into the child's wardrobe, and some of the cunningest dresses have long-sleeved bolero jackets, to be slipped over the white lawn waists. These boleros are double-breasted, and are really meant for use and warmth. Many of these are of good wool-brown gingham.

Full cambrics are also in heavier grade, and for very small children they are not only delicate, but they are wanted all wash goods. The popular way to make up these cambrics for September wear is with a plaid skirt and blouse, with the two pieces connected by a tucked sash of the same goods.

Children's sleeves continue larger and, if of wash goods, they cling to the balloon shapes. Neer goods, such as oriental silks and other inexpensive children's fabrics, have the cool sleeve to the elbow.

It's a Poor Rule.

The marquis of Lorne, when governor-general of Canada, was present at some sports held on the ice of the St. Lawrence. Though wrapped in furs he felt the cold acutely, and was astonished to see an ancient Indian man, dressed in a blanket, enveloped only in a blanket. He asked the savage how he managed to bear such a temperature when he had so little on. "Why you no cover face?" inquired the Indian. The marquis replied that he never did so, and he was accused of being naked from the neck. "Good," rejoined the prairie king, "me all face," and walked away.

MOVABLE HEN HOUSES.

They Are a Good Thing When Properly Constructed and Cared For.

In England movable poultry-houses have been popular for a long time. The advantages of such houses consist chiefly in furnishing fresh ground for the fowls and, if the houses are made without floors, in avoiding cleaning them. There is also an advantage in having the flock small, for small flocks, though occupying the same space, usually do better than large ones.

Mr. H. J. Stoddard, of Hartford, Conn., some years ago advertised in "An Egg Farm" a colony plan of housing fowls. This plan consisted in brief of portable houses, which were constructed like a roof, pitched both ways, with doors and windows at the ends, and resting upon runners. There were no floors. Houses were moved frequently a few feet, and thus the droppings were cared for. The houses were to be painted with different colors, so that the fowls might recognize them the more readily.

The objections to portable houses are: First, the greater cost; second, the greater amount of time required to care for the fowls; third, the fact that they do not afford the best quarters for the fowls during the winter. Where many fowls are kept, the labor question, usually ignored, is an important one, and anything which will save labor is worth consideration. In permanent fixed houses, conveniences for watering, feeding, cleaning, etc., can be introduced, which it would not be feasible to introduce into movable houses. By providing two yards for each pen, which can be done with a little foresight, in laying out the hennery, the objection to foul earth can be overcome.

These yards can be used on alternate years, the year in which they are not used by the fowls being devoted to the growth of a crop of clover. By having portable fences, and the yards on opposite sides of the house, the cost of fencing will not be appreciably increased, and the ground upon which there have run can be plowed and sowed without difficulty. Raising a crop for one year takes out all the noxious qualities from the soil. It is, therefore, a question whether it is advisable to adopt movable houses or not.

If one decides to adopt such houses, the best advice is to keep a large number of fowls, we think the colony plan of the best which has been devised. The houses, for winter use, however, should be provided with a door. During the winter they can be drawn together so as to avoid a large amount of travel in caring for the fowls.—Country Gentleman.

Scald and allow them to stand overnight in a place where they will not freeze; this is one of the best ways of feeding oats to poultry.

It is natural for some breeds of poultry to moult lighter each year, and hence what are often taken for defects are only natural to the breed.—St. Louis Republic.

Keep the Secret of securing eggs is really no secret, for every experienced person knows that everything depends upon the conditions. It is not always the breed or the feed that makes the hen lay. The main point is not to make a laying fat hen. If you have hens for market that are to be fatted, remove your laying hens. Keep the market hens confined closely, but keep your laying hens at work. The secret (if it is a secret) of making hens lay is to have them always busy at scratching. It is something they should be compelled to do from the time they come off the roost in the morning until they go on at night. The laying hen is a scratching hen. The idle, lazy farmer's hen is not.

Do not forget the fact—Farmer's Voice.

Among the Poultry. Sunflowers are a good thing to have about the poultry quarters where they can be grown.

It is a good way to have the roosting poles and nests movable, and place them on the surface of the day.

The survival of the fittest is good poultry doctrine. Find what individual hens are doing the best, and breed from them.

An egg contains from 25 to 27 per cent. solid matter, nearly 14 per cent. albumen. That means that laying hens are doing a great deal of work.

A Boston commission merchant says that if farmers would market all the chickens and eggs they can spare each week, they would be surprised at the regular income that they were receiving, and they would find more profit in so doing.

The large barn of Mr. Hilary Bell, situated near Fairfield, was destroyed by fire.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "last application" treatment are abhorrent to every modern woman. They are embarrassing, often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten, there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is the case with Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than 25 years. It cures every form of "female weakness."

THE NEW WAY.

WOMEN use to think "fe" male diseases could only be treated after "examinations" by physicians. Dread of such treatments kept thousands of modest women silent about their suffering. Their production of new demonstration proved that nine-tenths of all the cases of menstrual disorders do not require a physician's attention at all. The simple, pure

McELREE'S

The Roman mother who with her gentle delectatione tended the body of her child from the ravenous birds of a perfect type of motherhood in all times and among all people. To protect her offspring from harm is the ever-healing instinct of motherhood.

Modern mothers are coming to understand that the best protection they can give their children against the Preying accidents of life is to transmit to them an abundance of natural health and hardihood. But a mother cannot confer health and strength upon her offspring unless she has it in some measure herself.

Prospective mothers should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, which gives perfect health and strengthens all the special organs connected with motherhood.

Taken early during the expectant time, it makes the coming of baby entirely safe and nearly painless. It insures cheerfulness and recuperative energy to the mother and constitutes the vigor to the child.

It is the only perfect and positive specific for all weaknesses and diseases of the female organism.

Mrs. F. E. Forgy, of Carns, Keyapaha Co., Neb., writes: 'I write to you again concerning my daughter, Mrs. D. Billings. She has taken two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' She thinks the medicine did her a world of good. She was confined the 15th of February. Was sick but a short time and has a 10 pound daughter. Got along nicely afterward. Looks good, complexion looks clear, and she says she never felt so well.

"The patron had not seen a copper reach up or down as described. "Maybe he's changed off to-night," continued the chopper. "Or maybe he is late. But whenever he's on he comes around that corner at just such a time, and he swings his night stick and chuckles low, and then there is another chuckle still lower, most al-

"Yes, when the copper he walks to the street, and he goes down the stairs, and peers out and up and down, and then he reaches up, and he takes down the can and turns it up to his face and then he takes something out of the paper and eats whatever it is,
 and then he takes another swig out of the can, and then another bite, and then he goes back to the door and there ain' nothin' more to swig or to bite, then he puts up the can and whistles low again, and then he walks off, swinging his night stick. Then when he turns the corner a boy comes out of somewhere and he goes to the foot of the stairs and when he don't see no body looking he takes the can and scoops down in the direction of the ferry
 That thing's been going on down here

"Why do you think there is a sensation in it?" asked the patron.

"Think? Why it has all of the parts of one of them Sunday novels. There's the copper coming round whistling low. Then grabbing the can and the meat in the package. And then the low whistle again and the walk away, and the boy coming up from a dark place, looking around taking the can, and making for the ferry. And he's a hump-backed boy."

"Now, that boy is hired by thieves to feed the copper while they are at work, which is still better for a store, such as they're running, than a boy has a sister who is a shoplifter. And when she got pinched this copper he gets her off easy, and she is at liberty, and she cooks him cake and buys a can of beer and sends them to the copper by her hump-backed brother-in-law, that'll work up another thousand in circulation right in this district.

"There's so many situations in it. That's the beauty of the thing. It's good for more stories than one. I hate to do anything that would cause the copper any trouble, but I reckon a man oughtn't to hide his light under a bush."

Big and Little Brains.

The biggest brain in existence is that of the elephant, though not in proportion to the size of the animal. But the matter of proportion does not seem to be of absolute importance as an index of mentality. There is a little South American monkey, which, though not particularly intelligent, has a brain bigger than man's, relatively. Birds have remarkably big brains; probably no feathered species has a larger brain in proportion to its size than the chickadee. The crow and sparrow possess brains bigger than those of most birds, as might be expected, inasmuch as they are the most intelligent. This has been ascertained, by the way, that large men have more elaborately convoluted brains than are owned by small men, the only apparent reason being that there is a greater mass of body to be moved. The larger the body, the more efficient the dynamo required to run it.

"Alaska is a country on edge. It is so mountainous. Basins are mainly filled with ice. The weather is always hard in great extremes. When there is no ice there is moss and devil's club, the latter a vine that winds around everything it can clutch. Persons walking become entwined in a network of moss and devil's club, and passage is extremely difficult and 'torturous,' as well as tortuous."—Detroit Free Press.

SECRET OF LONGEVITY.

Sir Isaac Holden Believed in Fruit and Fresh Air.

Sir Isaac Holden, who died recently in his 91st year, was neither a teetotaler nor a non-smoker. Sir Isaac was a man with theories. According to him, the two great essentials for those who would live long and be healthy are plenty of fresh air and plenty of fruit. His rule was never, if he could help it, to spend less than two hours a day in the open air. When he entered his first situation he said to his employer that he would be glad to have an hour daily in the afternoon for a walk. If granted, he would not ask for any holiday, or would make up otherwise for the time so spent. This was agreed to. Sir Isaac took his walk daily, and to this, he used to say, he owed both health and fortune.

But though in addition to fresh air he believed in plenty of fruit, Sir Isaac was not a vegetarian. It was not meat, but bread, from which he abstained. Like Wesley, whose 'Natural Philosophy' he studied when a boy, he saw in farinaceous food a thing to be avoided by the elderly.

"I take for my breakfast," he said a few years ago, "one baked apple, one orange, 20 grapes, and a biseuit made from bananas. My midday meal consists of about three ounces of beef or mutton, with now and again a half pound of fish. In the evening I take a little fish, I take so much less of meat. For supper I practically repeat my breakfast menu." The orange was his favorite fruit. Wine he eschewed; and on returning from the house of commerce he often drank a little. He had a tumbler of whisky and hot water before going to bed. He took no drink with his food, and this obliged him to masticate well. He smoked two or three cigars a day, and was a great admirer of the celebrated both comfort and benefit.—St. James's Gazette.

A Noiseless Horseshoe.

A rubber-tired and noiseless horseshoe, which is expected to revolutionize horse running and racing, has been invented by a western genius. The shoe resembles the ordinary shoe, except that a circular rim of rubber is embedded in its bottom. The inventor is John W. Monarch, formerly chief of the U. S. department of transportation. The new horseshoe is said to naturally give the horse a much safer footing in climbing and descending steep hills or when traveling over roads made slippery by mud or ice or other agent.

This book, together with the "Nursery Rhymes" (a 16-page book of 100 rhymes) and "Home Dying" (a 16-page book of 100 recipes) will be given away to any reader of the Kentuckian who forwards the following coupon to Wells, Richardson & Co., Harrison, Ind.

COUPON.
This entitles any reader of the Hopkinsville Kentuckian to one copy of "Fancy Work and Art Decorations," "Nursery Rhymes" and "Successful Home Dying."

The above liberal offer is made to advertise the old reliable diamond dye, and get their book upon home dying into the hands of women who want to dress well by making their old clothing look new. Diamond dye has special dyes for cotton, different from those that are used for wool, and are the only package dyes that are used on the market that will be relied upon to give colors that will not fade or crack. The fact that Diamond dye has been the standard home dye for nearly twenty years and that its sales increase from year to year is proof positive that they have never had an equal.

—Mr. John H. Tandy, a highly respected citizen of Clarksville, died Tuesday, aged 72 years. Mr. Tandy was born near Fairview, this county, and had been living in Clarksville for a number of years.

—SMITH.—Mr. John Smith, formerly of Cerebus Springs, died at Nitta Yuma, Mississippi, Sunday, morning of yellow fever. He was for some time the railroad agent at Cerebus, but several months ago moved to Mississippi, and had since been engaged in the railroad service there. His wife, formerly Miss Mary Brame, daughter of Mr. John Brame, has been extremely ill of the same disease, but is now improving.

The remains of the deceased were interred at Nitta Yuma Sunday afternoon.

—COLEMAN.—Mrs. Edna Coleman died at her home on South Campbell street Monday night after a long illness. She was in the 56th year of her age, having been born in this city November 11, 1841. She was a daughter of the late Jan. B. Gowan and a sister-in-law to Hon. Walter Evans, who married her sister. In 1863 she was married to Milton J. Coleman, who died in 1891. Four children survive her, Mrs. W. E. Poulk, of Albuquerque, N. M.; Mr. Robt. H. Coleman, Mrs. Roy Adams, and Milton J. Coleman.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon and the interment took place in Hopewell cemetery. Mrs. Coleman was a member of the Methodist church.

An infant of Bettie Blaker, col. died in the city Wednesday night.

BRANS-WHITTINGHILL.—Mr. Adolph Brans and Miss Estelle Whittinghill, both of Madisonville, were married Tuesday by Rev. D. Whittinghill, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. S. Whittinghill. They left on a bridal tour to Nashville and other cities.

Mr. W. G. Brannan, of Erlington, son of Prof. J. G. Brannan, will be married in Erlington next Wednesday, at 2 p. m., to Miss Nina Unstead, a young lady who was educated in this city. On the same day Prof. Brannan's daughter, Miss Gertrude, will be married to Mr. Gus T. Brannon, of Owensboro.

DUNAW-ENNIS.—Guy Dunaw, late of this city, but now of Henderson, surprised his friends last Tuesday by coming over on the evening train and marrying one of the prettiest girls in Hopkinsville, Miss Mamie Ennis. The couple were known to be sweethearts, but nobody knew that their marriage was so close at hand. The wedding occurred at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. W. D. Ennis, Dr. Piner officiating. They left on the 8:13 train for Nashville to visit the Centennial and will be at home in Henderson the last of the week.

Mr. Duncan is a young man of substantial worth and business standing, connected with a large milling business. The pretty little bride is quite youthful and of unusual beauty, vivacity and intelligence.

YOST-GRAY.—Mr. Harry A. Yost, of this city, and Miss Mary Eva Gray, of Memphis, were married in this city yesterday at one o'clock p. m., at the residence of the bride's mother. It was while filling a position with the L. C. Railroad at Ripley, Tenn., that Mr. Yost met Miss Gray, and the attachment was formed that has terminated so happily. Her parents at that time lived at Ripley. Mr. Yost is at present engaged in business here, being a member of the harness firm of F. A. Yost & Co. He is a young man of fine character and excellent business qualifications. His bride is said to be a young lady of the most attractive
